Democratic Veterans Caucus of Florida Endorses Lt. Col. Alex Vindman for U.S. Senate

Daytona Beach, FL — The Democratic Veterans Caucus of Florida today proudly announced its official endorsement of Lt. Col. Alex Vindman (USA, ret.) for the United States Senate, supporting his candidacy in both the Democratic primary and the 2026 general election.

Danny Fuqua, President of the Democratic Veterans Caucus of Florida, issued the following statement:

“Lt. Col. Alex Vindman represents the very best of what it means to serve this nation. His career in the United States Army, his unwavering commitment to the Constitution, and his demonstrated courage in the face of political pressure make him uniquely qualified to serve the people of Florida in the United States Senate.

Veterans understand the meaning of duty, honor, and integrity—and Alex Vindman has lived those values throughout his life. At a time when our country faces serious challenges at home and abroad, Florida needs a leader who will stand up for democracy, defend our institutions, and fight for working families.

The Democratic Veterans Caucus of Florida is proud to stand with Alex Vindman in both the primary and the general election, and we are committed to mobilizing veterans across the state to support his campaign.”

Lt. Col. Vindman, a retired U.S. Army officer and decorated veteran, has built a national reputation for principled leadership and a steadfast dedication to American democratic values. His campaign for Senate has emphasized strengthening national security, protecting democratic institutions, expanding economic opportunity, and ensuring that veterans receive the care and respect they have earned.

The Democratic Veterans Caucus of Florida represents veterans, military families, and supporters across the state who are committed to advancing policies that uphold American values and improve the lives of those who have served.
